PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Level Sense Alarm is a simple and effective line of protection against basement sump pump back-up. The difference between Level Sense Alarm and every other product on the market is the rechargeable battery, and its ability to guard when AC power is lost. Level Sense is truly the market leader in this feature, offering protection for more than a week without power. Nothing else even comes close!

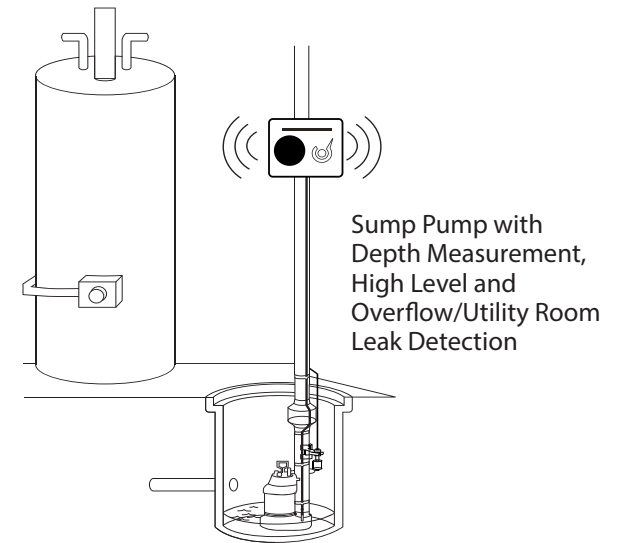

Most high water alarms today come with a 9VDC alkaline back-up battery. Alkaline Batteries need to be remembered, checked, and changed in order to be certain they will operate during a power failure - not the case with Level Sense Alarm! Level Sense Alarm straps directly to the sump pump discharge pipe (or can be wall mounted), and contains a power supply, float switch, float switch bracket, and complete mounting accessories.

Level Sense Alarm installs in just minutes and can be heard anywhere in the home. A Level Sense WiFi connected version is available as well.

Rest easy knowing that you have the premiere, all purpose indoor sump pump alarm working to protect your home!
